

Creating a 'Choose Your Own Adventure' style story

-author's guide-

Read the story 'A Crisis of Crumbs' and think about what adventures Jack and Oakley might take together. Plan and create a 'Choose Your Own Adventure' story for them based on your ideas.

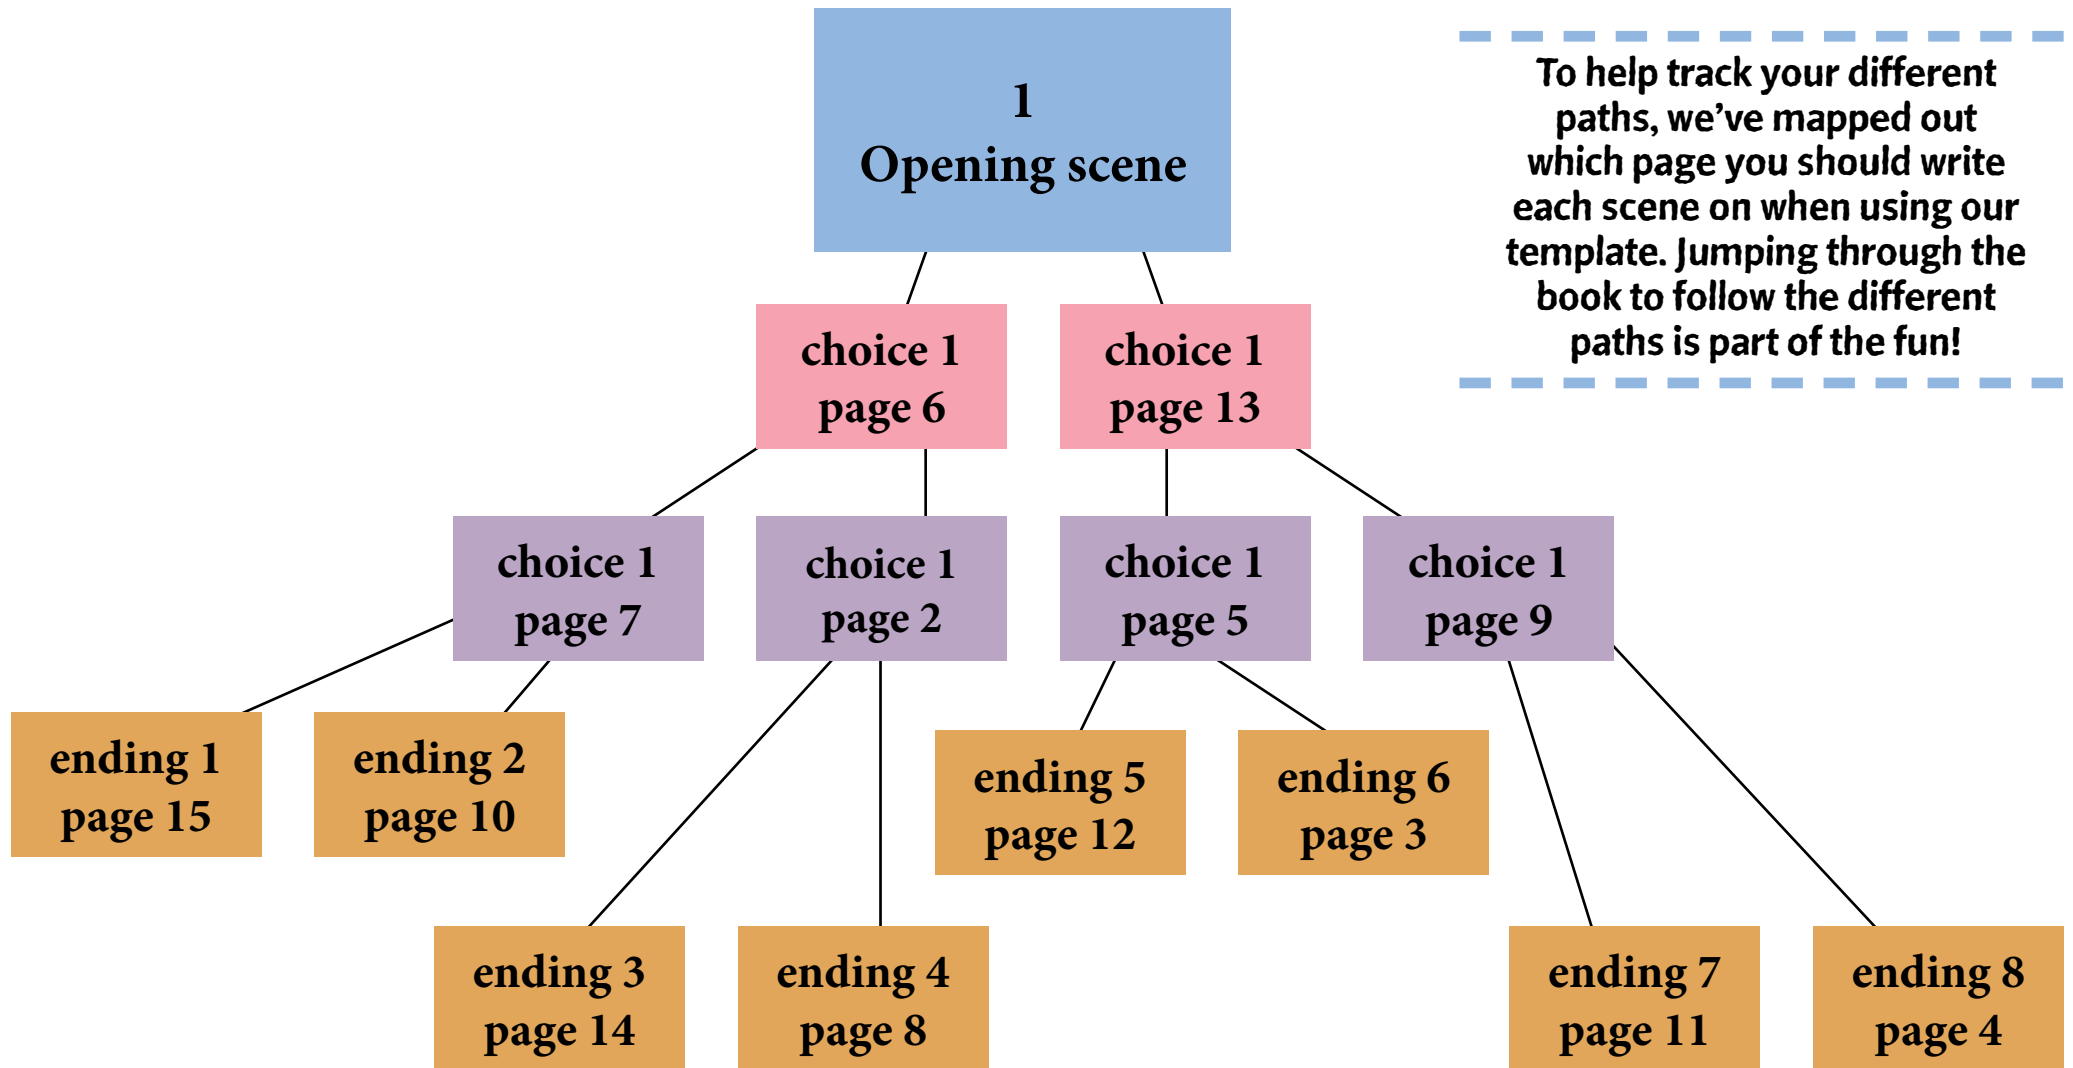

'Choose Your Own Adventure' style stories allow the reader to decide where the story goes by giving them different paths to choose along the way. This lets them take the characters in the direction they want to see them go!

To create this type of story as an author, you will need to brainstorm ideas for a range of different options and adventures, including multiple endings. Each direction can take different twists and turns and incorporate a range of feelings and experiences, such as a funny situation, a scary encounter or a shocking ending.

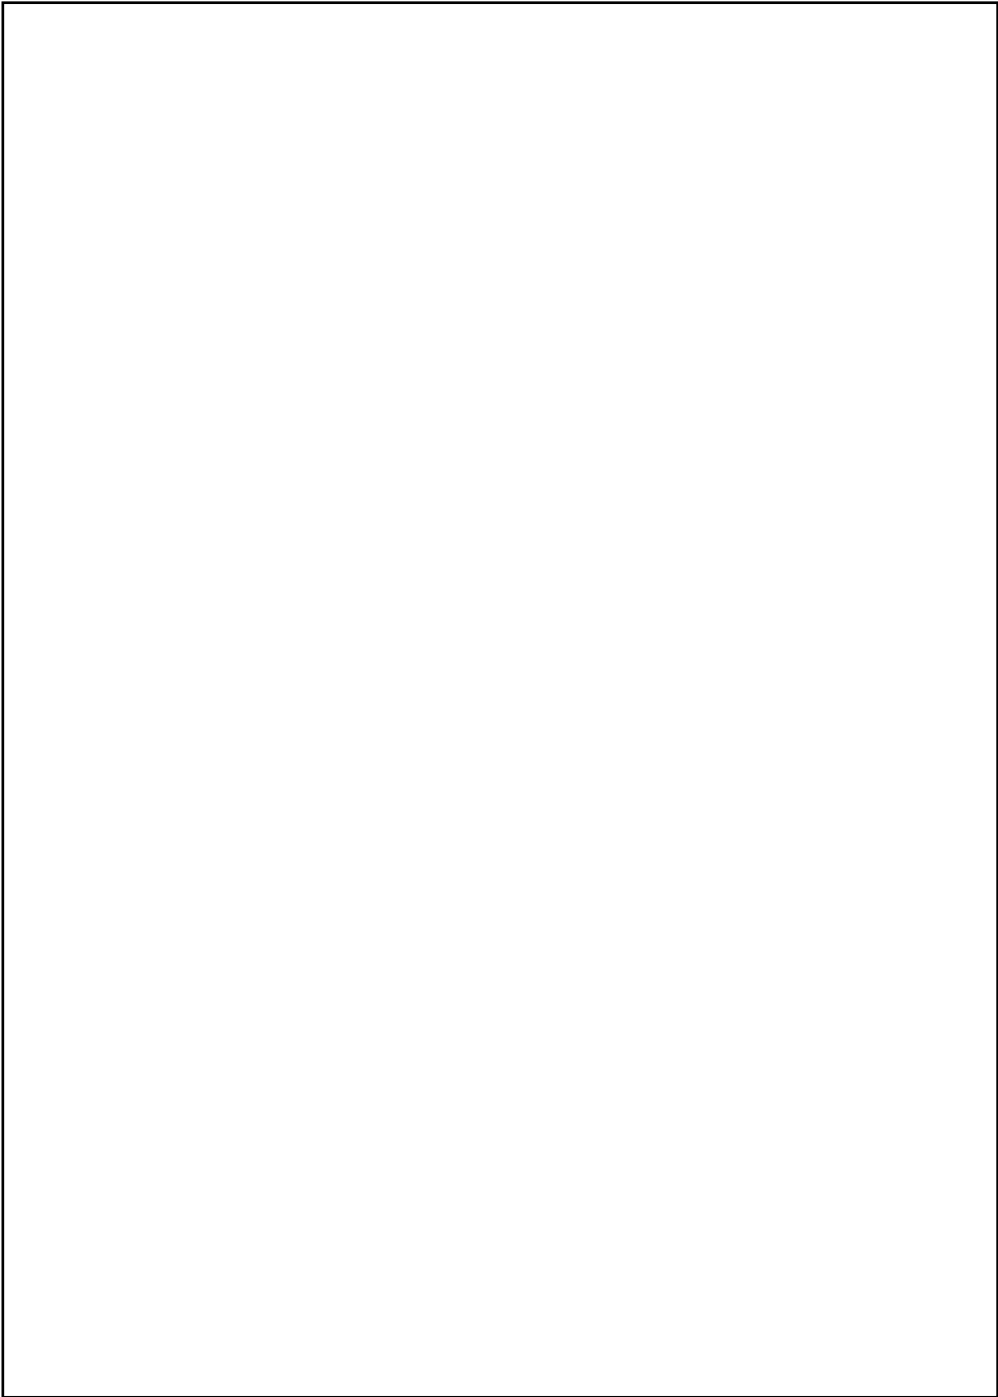

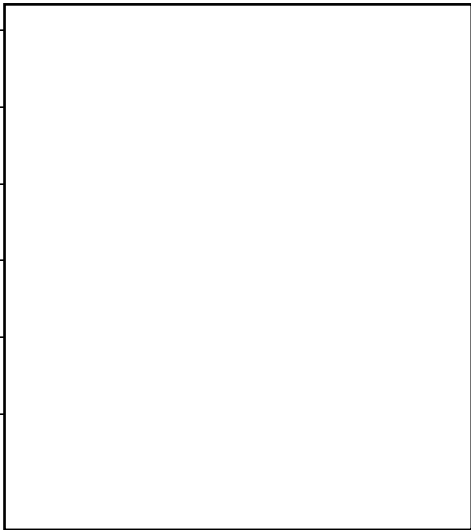

You should always start with a strong opening scene for your characters that invites the reader to feel invested in their journey. The end of the scene should bring them to a situation where two different choices can be made. From there, you will need to continue branching out your story with different choices, writing scenes and endings for each.

Remember! The success of writing a 'Choose Your Own Adventure' style story starts with a solid plan. Use our map and template to help you build your own.

Planning Map

- THE END -

_____ go to page 6

_____ go to page 13

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

- THE END -

--

_____ go to page 5

_____ go to page 9

_____ go to page 14

_____ go to page 8

[illegible][illegible]

- THE END -

[illegible][illegible]

- THE END -

[illegible]

- THE END -

[illegible][illegible]

- THE END -

_____ go to page 12

_____ go to page 3

[illegible]

- THE END -

[illegible]

_ go to page 11

_ go to page 4

[illegible]

go to page 7

go to page 2

_____ go to page 15

_____ go to page 10

[illegible]

- THE END -